Judge Dey, on behalf of the defendant, argued that mandamus was not the proper remedy; also that there was no law requiring the justice of the no law requiring the justice of the peace to consult the county attorney before issuing warrants of arrest. Counsel also held that the county attorney had disqualified himself as a prosecutor and placed himself in the position of a witness for the defense. He said he was personally cognizant of the charge made, know there was no foundation for it and that it ought to be dismissed and very properly in the first instance refused to prosecute, but later comes along and says, notwithlater comes along and says, notwith-standing that he is personally cogniz-ant with the facts in the case and holding the views he says he does, that it is his duty to prosecute. A judge wouldn't sit in a case in which he was witness to make his complaint before the grand jury, which was eminently proper, but when the complaining wit-ness went before that body Mr. Whittemore induced the grand jury not to take up the investigation by stating to them that Davis wanted a public preliminary hearing and the matter was already in the hands of the justice. ounsel couldn't understand the county Counsel couldn't understand the county attorney's double position, but was of the opinion that instead of doing his duty he was shirking it. Counsel thought that Mr. Whittemore was in every was disqualified from taking charge of the prosecution, and it would be wrong to permit him to do so.

Mr. Whittemore briefly replied referring to the collayed nowers conferent

This thought is called forth by the fact that the new, elegant and substantial building at 67 West First South, is now completed even to the sign over the entrance. The building is 100 teet long, three stories in height, with a commodious basement, and is most admirably adapted for the purpose for which it was designed— Ernest Oliver, who was fined $10 and osts for exhibiting a deadly weapon, by Justice Hoit of South Jordan, and on account of non-payment of the fine was imprisoned in the county jail, made application before Judge Street for a writ of habeas corpus, alleging that he was illegally deprived of his liberty was illegally deprived of his liberty for the reason that the judgment did not provide for imprisonment if the fine was not paid. IN MEMORIAM

IN MEMORIAN

The remains of the late Bishop Jacob Weller, a most worthy veteran in the cause of truth, and one of the noble band of the first pioneers to these valleys of the mountains, was laid to rest on Thursday, March 28th, 1896.

The funeral services were held in the Third ward assembly hall at 2 o'clock; the remains laid in state one hour before the services commenced, giving an opportunity to the members of the ward over which the late bishop had presided to take a last look at the features of their beloved friend.

The stand was handsomely draped with white and ornamented with vases of lovely flowers. The casket was beautifully covered with white brocaded velvet and Herally hidden with emblems of the most exquisite flowers. "The Gates Ajar," was presented by the associations of the ward, the following emblems were furnished by the family of the deceased, "beautiful star and crown," "seroll" with the word "Faithful." Large anchor with "Grandpa." ineribed thereon. "Single Star." Pillow with "Rest," "Sickle and Sheaf of Wheat," and a wreath of violets from a friend.

Presidents Wilford Woodruff, George Q. Cannon and Joseph F. Smith, with five of the apostics, Presiding Bishop William B. Presion and twenty-three other bishops from country and city wards, also the presidency of the stake, President A. M. Cannon, Joseph E. Taylor and Charles Penrose, with numerous high pursess, seventies and elders, were present. The house and grounds were Presion and twenty-three other bishops from country and city wards, also the presidence of the stake, President A. M. Cannon, Joseph E. Taylor and Charles Penrose, with numerous high priests, seventies and elders, were present. The house and grounds were full to overflowing, and all present felt they had lost a brother and a friend.

The impressive ceremonies commenced by the choir singing "Thon Dost Not Weep to Weep Alone." Prayer offered by Presiding Bishop W. B. Preston. Singing, "Wanted On the Other Side." The first presidency addressed the congregation in the following order: Presidents George Q. Cannon, Joseph F. Smith and Wilford Woodruff: each spoke in the most feeling manner of the noble character of the deceased; eulogized his honesty and integrity to the principles of the gospei; hoped all would emulate his virtues and live pure lives before God, and keep faithful to the end, and by so doing, prove worthy to again meet their friend and brother and enjoy his society in sternal bliss when they are called away from this vale of tears.

The casket was borne to and from the hall by six grandsons of the deceased. At the close, the choir sang "Farewell All Earthly Honors." Benediction by President Angus M. Cannon.

At the cemetery the choir sang "Nearer My God to Thee."

President Joseph E. Taylor dedicated the grave with its precious contents, and may it rest in peace undisturbed until the trump of God shall sound in the morning of the first resurrection.

Jacob Weller, who departed this life, 25th day of March 1896, was the son of Joseph Weller and Rosanna Styers Weiler, born in Lancaster county, Pentsylvania on 14th day of March 1896, When a boy he moved to Chester county, and in after years married Maria Malin, who hore him live children, three sons and two daughters. In the year 1849, after hearing the gospel expounded by the Prophet Joseph Smith, he gladly accepted the same and was baptized and thereby became a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. In 1841 he migrated to Nauvoo and became an every day friend and associate of the martyred prophet and patriarch Joseph and Hyrum Smith. No man has ever horne a stronger testimony that he knew Joseph Smith was a prophet of God, than our departed brother Jacob Weller.

Weiter.

In 1845 Brother Weiler, with the rest of the church was driven from Nauvoo and went to Winter Quarters. In the spring of 1847 he was called to come west with the Pioneers, and arrived in Salt Lake Valley on the 24th day of July 1847. In 1856 he was ordained a high priest and called to preside as bishop of the Third ward, over which he continued to preside until May 1895, when on account of his great age and infirmities he was honorably released and ordained a patriarch under the hands of President Wilford Woodruff.

Bishop Weiler was one of the most successful farmers in this mountain region, No man has been more prospered in cultivating the soil and converting the desert and making it a fruitful field than he.

Brother Weller has always been generous with his means in helping every laudable enterprise, and when the call was made to finish the Salt Lake temple, he cheerfully contributed one thousand dollars towards its completion, and has also contributed of his means in building the other three tempdes—St. George, Manti and Logan.

Four times he has visited his relatives in the east, and the place of his birth. He was loved by all who had the privilege of his acquaintance. If he had an enemy on earth none were aware of it.

Brother Weller left a wife, one son and two adopted daughters, thirty-two grand children and ten great grand children mourn the loss of their noble progenitor.
